- If employee provides own equipment, he/she is responsible for servicing and maintaining it.
- The Research Foundation will not be liable for damages to an employee's personal or real property during performance of official duties or while using Research Foundation equipment in the employee's residence.
- The Research Foundation will not be responsible for operating costs, home maintenance, or any other incidental costs (e.g., utilities) associated with the use of the employee's residence.
- All hardware and software should be secured against unauthorized access.

USE OF NON-RESEARCH FOUNDATION, UNIVERSITY AND/OR NON-STATE OWNED OR LEASED COMPUTING DEVICES

All information produced, received, or accessed in the course of conducting Foundation business is to be treated as confidential. No confidential data can be stored on personally owned or leased equipment. To protect university/state information technology assets and the data they process and store, the employee must safeguard IT assets and data by using the following acceptable methods:

- Use of standalone devices.
- Internet access to web-based applications where the data is not downloaded to the local workstation, and
- Internet access to remote desktop applications.
- Software provided by ODU Research Foundation is to be used only for its intended purpose and should not be duplicated without consent.
- Storing of all confidential data on personal devices is prohibited due to records retention and Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) complexities, as well as the associated security risks. Failure to comply with this provision may result in termination of the telework agreement, and/or appropriate disciplinary action.

SECURITY INCIDENT RESPONSE REGARDING PERSONALLY OWNED/LEASED COMPUTING DEVICES

1. IT security incidents may occur using personally owned or leased computing devices to perform RF business.
2. In the event a personally owned or leased computing device is involved in the investigation of a security incident, the employee may be required to release the device to law enforcement, the Commonwealth of Virginia Computer Security Incident Response Team (CIRT), or the ODU Security Team for forensic purposes.
3. The COV CIRT, ODU Security Team and the Research Foundation IT department are obligated to report any illegal activity uncovered during a security incident investigation, whether the activity is related to the incident being investigated or not.
4. Although all investigations are confidential, the remote user concedes any expectation of privacy related to information stored on a personally owned computing device involved in a security incident.

SAFETY

1. Employee is covered by the appropriate provisions if injured while performing official duties at the central workplace or alternate work location.
2. Employee agrees to bring to the immediate attention of supervisor any accident or injury occurring at the alternate work location.
3. Supervisor will investigate all accident and injury reports immediately following notification.
4. The employee agrees to permit an inspection of the alternate work location to ensure conformity with safety standards and other specifications in these guidelines. The employee should be given at least one business day advance notice of the inspection, which will occur during normal working hours.

SAFETY CONFIRMATION

Employee confirms that the alternate work location is, to the best of his/her knowledge, safe and free of recognized hazards that would cause physical harm (such as frayed, exposed or loose electrical wires; clean, dry, and level floor surfaces; phone lines and electrical cords are properly secured; etc.). The employee further confirms that, to the best of his/her knowledge, the space is free of asbestos-containing materials. If asbestos-containing materials are present, they are undamaged and in good condition.

CONFIDENTIALITY/SECURITY

Employee will apply approved safeguards to protect all data from unauthorized disclosure or damage and will comply with the privacy requirements set forth in the Research Foundation Handbook. Storing of university or state data on personal devices is prohibited due to records retention and Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) complexities, as well as the associated security risks. Failure to comply with this provision may result in loss of pay, termination of the telework agreement, and/or appropriate disciplinary action.

EMERGENCY CLOSING STATUS (select one)

Please indicate if this employee IS or IS NOT expected to telework for the duration of an emergency (e.g. extreme weather event, pandemic, act of terrorism, etc.).

In less extreme cases, (e.g. inclement weather) employees working remotely are expected to continue working during a university closing unless that is not possible due to power outages or other conditions that prevent him/her from working. Employees teleworking during an authorized closing do NOT receive compensatory leave. If employee is unable to telework during an emergency due to illness, the employee must take appropriate leave.

The employee may be asked and expected to report to an agency central workplace, other alternative locations, or be granted emergency closing authorization, on a case-by-case basis, when other circumstances (e.g. power failure) prevent the employee from teleworking at the alternate work locations listed above.

INITIATION AND TERMINATION OF AGREEMENT

Employee may terminate participation in telework at any time.

The Research Foundation may terminate employee’s participation in telework at any time. Employees may be withdrawn from telework for reasons to include, but not limited to, declining performance and organizational benefit. Two weeks’ notice to the employee is recommended when feasible.

I have read the complete Telework Agreement and I concur with the terms. I have completed ITS’ Remote User Security Training. I certify that this information is accurate and true. I understand that falsifying this document may violate criminal and civil laws and employment policies of the Department of Human Resources, the Virginia Information Technology Agency, and Old Dominion University, and may subject me to criminal prosecution, civil penalties, and disciplinary action, including termination of my employment.
